

COMPETITION ADMIN

1. COMPETITION TERMS

This competition will be decided in an open, anonymous process in a single stage by a jury. The competition is private and purely academic.

The submitted proposals will be part of a virtual exhibition within the OPENGAP web, which will open this debate to other architects and interested individuals.

This competition will be governed by the present program, with OPENGAP and, at a later time, the jury, empowered to resolve all those issues that are not explicitly stated in it. Any decision taken will preserve the principles of anonymity and non-discrimination.

OPENGAP's commitment to the winners is limited to the awards mentioned in this programme. No further contractual relations will arise between OPENGAP and the winners of this competition, as its objective is only the reflection on the topics discussed and does not involve the execution of the projects.

2. ORGANIZER OF THE COMPETITION

All correspondence related to this competition will be directed to

7. INFORMATION AND QUESTIONS

- Besides organizing this competition, OPENGAP will monitor that all participants comply with this programme and with all other rules of this competition.
- All doubts as well as any communication about this competition shall be addressed by e-mail at the following address: competitions@opengap.net All inquiries will be answered responding by e-mail.
- All those queries on the registration, registration number or any issue related to fees, payments or money transfers shall be submitted during the registration period to the e-mail: register@opengap.net

- The attempt by any participant to get in touch with a juror with the intention of discussing any subject referred to the competition will result in an immediate disqualification.

8. DOCUMENTATION TO BE SUBMITTED BY PARTICIPANTS

The submissions will consist of 2 digital images .jpg with the following characteristics:

Digital Image Format: JPG.

Color Mode: RGB

File Name: Registration number + letter A or B (IH1234_A.jpg)

Maximum size: 4 Megabytes per image.

Dimensions: rectangular in horizontal format. To be printed in DIN A2 size (59.4 X 42cm).

- These images must contain all graphic and written information required in the opinion of the participant for the proper definition of the proposal.
- The resolution, the scale of the drawings and text size of these images should be checked as these will eventually be printed on paper size DIN A2 (59.4cm X 42cm) horizontal format.
- Given these parameters, the minimum font size included in the proposal text should be 10 points.
- It is allowed to use any technique or form of graphic expression to explain the proposal.
- Any description in wording (or numbering) should be included within the submitted images in English or Spanish only.

- No other documentation may be sent except for the 2 digital images.
- No logo, trade mark, insignia or any identifying symbol may be included in the images. The only identification should be the registration number, which must appear on the upper right corner of the image.

Note: The jury will review the proposals displayed on a computer screen and images will be projected to a size of approximately 120 x 84 cm at the jury session.

9. SUBMISSION OF PROPOSALS

- Proposals will be received through the web www.opengap.net by following the link "UPLOAD MY PROPOSAL" in the competition's profile. Or at this web address <http://opengap.wetransfer.com>

The proposal must be uploaded by following the instructions on the website.

The submission will be sent in a ZIP or RAR file whose name will be the registration number (IH1234.zip) and will include the two JPG images.

- The deadline for submission of proposals will be December 14, 2017 at 20:00 in Central Europe (Central European Time (CET) = UTC/ GMT + 1:00)
- Once the submission period has closed, OPENGAP will create a document listing the number of entries received and their registration numbers. It is the responsibility of each participant or team to verify that their proposal registration number is included in that list, once it is published on the opengap.net web page.

- OPENGAP will collect the proposals and forward them to the jury always preserving the anonymity of the authors.
- Proposals arriving after the deadline will not be accepted under any circumstances.

10. ANONYMITY

- OPENGAP will ensure the anonymity of each proposal during the competition.
- The proposals should be presented only with the registration number, which shall appear on the images in the upper right corner, so they are evaluated by the jury in complete anonymity.
- It is prohibited to include any images of trademarks, logos, icons, symbols or signs that can help identify its author.
- The registration number will be the only item that will allow the jury to organize, process and evaluate each of the proposals received.
- OPENGAP will classify the images by their registration numbers, keeping the personal information in a separate envelope, and only at the end of the evaluation the jury will know the names of the authors.
- If the author of a proposal submitted wishes to remain anonymous in the event of not getting any award or mention, this can be requested by writing, before submission deadline, in an e-mail to register@opengap.net

11. JURY

a. COMPOSITION OF THE JURY

To OPENGAP it is important to have a serious and professional jury for this competition. We are in the process of selecting the jury members. Once we have the confirmations of participation we will publish the names on our website, since we know this is important to the participants.

b. JURY'S TASKS

The tasks of the jury are:

- Analyzing the information and final acceptance of submitted proposals.
- The exclusion of those non-accepted projects and documented in the minutes, because of:
 1. Late delivery, or failure to comply with the terms and conditions of the programme.
 2. Violation of anonymity, either for having disclosed the authorship by any means or by
 - Including identifying graphics in the proposal;
 3. Any attempt to influence the jury's decision.
- Analyzing and evaluating the submitted proposals, seeking external advice when considered convenient.
- Monitoring and enforcement of strict anonymity with which the documentation will be examined.

- The final resolution: the verdict of the competition will be rationalized and documented and the minutes will include the arguments for choosing the winning proposals.

OPENGAP will keep minutes of all actions carried out by the jury.

c. PROCEDURE FOR REACHING A VEREDICT OF THE COMPETITION

After the receipt of all proposals, all images received will be available for review by the jurors, who will have sufficient time to analyze them all. All digital files presented will be sent to the Jury members.

On a date to be determined between the members of the jury and OPENGAP, there will be a plenary meeting to proceed with the discussion of the verdict.

Before entering any other considerations it will be decided which proposals will be admitted and are rejected.

The jury will agree a process for evaluating the proposals, depending on the quantity and quality of the submitted proposals, and their successive filtering.

The jury will disclose the motives for the determining the awards and for those with a special mention. Their work will be documented in the minutes.

d. PUBLICATION OF RESULTS

Following the plenary session, the results of the competition will be announced on the OPENGAP website. All submissions will also be published in www.opengap.net

12. PRIZES

The awards will be the following:

- 1st Prize, € 2000 Two thousand Euro
 - 2nd Prize, € 1000 One thousand Euro
 - 3rd Prize, € 500 Five hundred Euro
 - Mentions, Mentions will not have an economic prize. The jury may name as many proposals as they consider worthy to be mentioned.
- The award amounts will be paid through wire transfer to the designated bank account.

13. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

The authors retain the intellectual property of their proposals. None of the proposals, not even the awarded ones, can be used for other purposes or as source material for other projects except by their authors.

Participants will transfer to OPENGAP only the rights of exploitation of their work for advertising the competition and its results, by means of publication and exhibitions of the proposals presented. The authors of those non-awarded proposals will stay anonymous if they requested it so in advance.

14. EXHIBITION OF PROPOSALS

- Once the competition results are decided, all submitted proposals will be published in the OPENGAP website: www.opengap.net
- It is implicit that the right of participants to review all submitted proposals is met by publishing them on the website.

- OPENGAP may also organize a public exhibition. This exposition, if done, will be announced to all participants.
- Some projects may also be subject to publication; in this case the prior permission of their authors to publish their details will be obtained.
- All images presented in the Competition will be part of OPENGAP digital recording, thus becoming part of the records of the event for display, exhibition and publications to be made.

15. CONDITIONS OF PARTICIPATION

- When registering to the Competition, participants immediately formalize their unconditional acceptance of this competition programme and rules, as well as the final decisions of the jury. Participation and registration to the competition constitute acceptance of the conditions outlined above.
- After registration, the inscription fee will not be returned.
- The jury, by majority vote, is the only sanctioned and responsible body for choosing the winners of this competition and its decision is final.
- In case of an exceptional situation, OPENGAP reserves the right to make any improvement to this programme (dates, deadlines or requirements), provided these changes serve the common good of the participating architects and to a better development of this competition.
- As participants agree to the final decisions of the jury, both OPENGAP and jurors are exempt from any possible claim (civil or criminal) if an architect or architectural team does not agree with their determinations.
